WORK ON WATER SOFTENER PLANT SOON TO START

Construction of $150,000 Unit Will Begin When Weather Conditions Permit

PLANS ARE REVISED

Two Mammoth Tanks Feature of New Equipment; Rates To Be Increased

Plans for Marion's water softening system, which is to be [illegible] this year at a cost of approximately $150,000, are nearing completion and construction work will start as soon as weather conditions permit, George H. Whysall, manager of the Marion Water Co., stated today.

Due to the magnitude of the undertaking, practically all summer will be required for installation of the softening plant and equipment [illegible] will not be ready for operation before fall, Mr. Whysall says.

Difficult Problem

The problem is [illegible] difficult here because of the large percentage of lime in Marion's city water. This has necessitated a number of revisions in the tentative plans which were started several months ago.

The system to be used here is one which has been thoroughly tested and operated successfully in many other communities, it is claimed. The percentage of lime content in the local city water is considered above the average, however, and this has necessitated some changes in the method used in other communities.

The entire softening plant and equipment will be operated on the water company's property west of the city. Among the main features of the equipment will be two mammoth tanks of 4,350,000 gallons capacity. That amount of water, which is [illegible] the capacity of the company's reservoir, will be constantly in process of softening.

Emergency Measures

Should any emergency arise, such as a large fire, requiring use of an exceptionally large amount of the water, the company will be prepared to draw upon its reservoir supply and upon the extensive pumping facilities at the plant.

Installation of the softening system is in compliance with provisions of the water company's new franchise. The entire cost is to be borne by the water company and a small increase in consumers' rates will go into effect as soon as the softener is placed in operation.

When the new system is functioning, Marion's city water will be only slightly harder than rain water and in some respects, especially [illegible] of purity, will be superior to rain water for general household and laundry use, it is claimed.

THOMAS EDISON, 80, VIEWS RADIO WITH SKEPTICAL EYE

FORT MYERS, FLA., Mar. 2—Past his eightieth milestone in life but still striving to turn out devices surpassing the gifts he already has given mankind, Thomas A. Edison, world famous inventor, paused in his work long enough at his winter home here today to give International News Service his views on radio, acknowledge that he chews tobacco, and predict that the talking moving picture never will replace the silent drama in the esteem of the theater going public.

Edison looks upon radio in its present stage, at least, with a skeptical eye. He believes that perfection in radio will not come in the near future and frowns on the existing radio craze. It will never be a success, he says, until distortion is eliminated and means found for the extinction of static.

The radio of today is not worth while, in Edison's opinion, because of the fact that it does not carry the natural sound. A voice over the radio does not ring true, he declares, and until the foreign sounds which creep over the waves in the air are conquered, radio will never take the place of the mechanical devices for the reproduction of sound and voices.

The greatest problem to be solved in the perfection of the system, he believes, is the long distance measure work. The greatest trouble in the short wave, he pointed out, is the skip distance most noticeable between one and 50 meters.

"Despite the fact that the radio is far from being perfected and still is in its infancy, it is a mighty good thing for those who like it," Edison said. "It is a good thing for the young people because it is constructive and gives them something serious to think and read about. It also tends to keep the young people at home nights, which is a mighty hard thing to do in these modern times."

He chuckled as he bit off a piece of tobacco from his plug and offered it to W. H. Grogan, local radio expert and officer in charge of the Fort Myers Naval Reserve radio station.

"Yes, I chew tobacco," he said. "I learned to chew when I was an operator with the Western Union many years ago. I worked in an operating room where more than 100 operators ticked off messages. A great number of them smoked and we all nearly smothered. One day we held a meeting and decided that we would all quit smoking and turn to the plug. I grew to like it and have never stopped. Yes, I have stomach trouble, have had it for 60 years. They say it comes from chewing too much tobacco but I don't believe it." And the genius of electricity smiling patted his stomach.

"You asked me about the new talking moving picture?" Edison answered. "It is not new. It is as old as you are, nearly. I recall my first attempts on the project some 15 years ago. We took the voice on a phonograph record and arranged the talking machine so that it could be operated from the projection room of the theater. The phonograph was placed down in front of the [illegible] and [illegible].

"[illegible] working [illegible] Japanese [illegible] asked what [illegible] Certainly [illegible] after the [illegible]."

"No, I don't think the talking moving picture will ever be successful in the United States," [illegible] "Americans prefer silent drama. They are [illegible] Yes, there will be a novelty in it for a little while but the glitter will soon wear off and the movie fans will cry for silence [illegible] a little orchestra music.

"I believe the experiments will prove highly successful. I am certain that voices can be synchronized to fit in just the right place with the play on the screen, but the American people do not want it and will not welcome it, which means that we are wasting our time in going on with the project."

The inventor turned his gaze to [illegible] conclude.

"There are more things [illegible] more than the talking moving picture in these days and I am de[illegible] my time and concentrating my efforts on things of far greater importance to the United States and mankind in general."

PLAN NEW CELL BLOCK FOR OHIO PENITENTIARY

State Legislature Makes Available Appropriation of $250,000 for Addition

Columbus, Mar. 2—Plans for building a new cell block, with prison labor, to relieve the congested population at Ohio penitentiary were being rushed today as a result of action of the state legislature in making available immediately an appropriation of $250,000 for erection of a new cell block and prison chapel.

Governor Vic Donahey is expected to approve this legislative appropriation which is part of the Williamson $4,200,000 supplemental appropriation bill senate amendments to which were concurred in by the house late Tuesday by a vote of 133 to 0.

The new cells, it was stated, will provide accommodations for about 500 prisoners.

The Williamson bill also contains an appropriation of $16,785 for operating expenses for the state board of real estate examiners. Considerable opposition to this appropriation was voiced in the house. The governor has not indicated whether he will veto the item. He vetoed the bill passed two years ago, providing for these examiners but the legislature repassed it over his veto.

BANK CLEARINGS SHOW MARION TRADE BETTER

February Total Reaches $2,519,500; Increase of $477,500 Over 1926

Reports of Marion bank clearings continue to indicate that business conditions in the city are much better than those of last year.

Clearings in February, the monthly report of the local Clearing House Association shows, totaled $2,519,500, an increase of $477,500 over the same month last year.

In January the total was $3,295,000, which was also much larger than the 1926 record. Last month's clearings were exceptionally large, due to the fact that money from the sale of Marion County Telephone Co. stock passed through the banks.

Transactions during February, however, consisted of the ordinary run of business, so that the $477,500 increase is to be regarded as indicating absolutely normal improvement over last year's business conditions.

BANKERS WANT EMBARGO ON FRENCH LOANS LIFTED

Strong Pressure Being Brought To Bear on Government by Money Men

Washington, Mar. 2—Strong pressure is being brought to bear on the government for the removal of the embargo on loans to France, it was learned today.

Announcement that France will begin debt payments to the United States, without waiting for ratification of the Mellon-Berenger Agreement, is expected to strengthen the position of New York bankers who are reported to be anxious to make large flotations of French bonds in the American investment field. Representatives of the large banks already have conferred with Secretary of State Kellogg and Secretary Mellon concerning the possibility.

The bankers believe there is a ready market for French bonds in the United States without administration backing, but thus far their efforts have been met by a reaffirmation of the government's embargo policy.

The bankers declared that money was being loaned to London bankers at from four to five per cent and replaced by the British in Paris at from seven to eight per cent. Some New York bankers feel that they should be getting the profit, and they feel confident that even without the ratification the embargo eventually will be lifted provided the French continue to make debt payments.

MEXICO IS SILENT

Mexico City, Mar. 2—The Mexican foreign office today continued to maintain complete silence as to the nature of the note delivered yesterday by the United States, but there were many rumors afloat as to the content of the note.

In well informed circles it was reported that the purport of the note was to inform the Mexican government that Ambassador Sheffield has the confident support of the Washington administration.

It is also reported that the note protested against anti-American propaganda and warned the Mexican government against its officials lending themselves to such efforts.

SUNDAY DANCE MEASURE WINS IN COMMITTEE

Hill Bill Recommended for Passage by Unanimous Vote of Members

The bill introduced in the state legislature by H. E. Hill, Marion county's member of the House of Representatives, to prohibit public dances and roller skating on Sunday, was recommended for passage by the House committee on villages following a second and final hearing on the proposal held at Columbus last night.

This action was taken by the committee by a unanimous vote after arguments for and against the proposal had been submitted by ministers, heads of institutions for wayward girls, labor organization leaders and representatives of amusement parks.

Guthery Speaks

Fred L. Guthery, local attorney representing the Crystal Lake Park Amusement Co., was one of the speakers appearing in opposition to the bill. His talk came toward the close of the committee session and followed vigorous attacks against alleged evils of dancing made by ministers and others who spoke in support of the proposal.

Mr. Guthery expressed the opinion that dances, properly regulated, are not a menace to public morals and that the pastime creates no more temptations or lures for normal young persons than any other form of entertainment.

Other Marion residents attending the hearing were Mr. Hill, author of the bill, Fred B. Scheff, manager of Crystal Lake Park, and Charles E. Merkel, president of the Marion Savings Bank.

Recommend Adoption

Despite the argument of Mr. Guthery and other spokesmen against the bill, all eight members of the committee voted to report it to the House and recommend adoption.

The only expression coming from any member of the committee which might be regarded as a note of dissent was a statement by Represntative C. R. Sumner of Oberlin who said that "to pass the bill would be only enacting another law to be bootlegged."

Among speakers advocating passage of the measure were Evangeline Reams, superintendent of the Girls' Rescue Home, Columbus; Mrs. Charles Stalker, chairman of the Friends' Rescue Home, Columbus; C. E. Knapp, of Lodi, member of the House of Representatives; and Rev. J. H. T. Gordon of Logan County, fourth term member of the House, while speakers against the bill, in addition to Mr. Guthery, were F. R. Ormsby of Akron, director

BABE RUTH ARRIVES TO DISCUSS SALARY

Tremendous Crowd Greets Home Run Slugger at New York Station

New York, Mar. 2—Babe Ruth will be paid the wage of $210,000 for the next three years. He agreed to sign such a contract after a conference this afternoon with the management of the New York American League Club.

New York, Mar. 2—Babe Ruth, looking fit and declaring he never was in better shape arrived on the Twentieth Century today from the West and announced that he would see Jacob Ruppert, owner of the New York Yankees, "about that salary matter" this afternoon.

Ruth is demanding a two-year contract at $100,000 a year. He was paid $52,000 last season.

"I'm determined to make Jake see that I'm worth the $100,000 per," said the famous slugger.

A tremendous crowd numbering at least several thousand was at the station to greet and cheer the Bambino.

The crowd that gathered to meet Ruth was so great that it was necessary to rope off an aisle so that he could come through from the train to his automobile.

A great cheer went up from the assembled throng when the Babe, attired nattily in a light polo coat and brown cap, flipped easily from the steps of the train.

Shortly after noon the Babe went into conference with Rupert and Barrow, and the big battle was on. Previously he spent three-quarters of an hour with his wife in the hospital. He said she would be in bed for some time but that her condition was not serious.

JERRY TARBOT DENOUNCED AS DRAFT DODGER

South Dakota Congressman Declares Department of Justice Has Made Search

Washington, Mar. 2—"Jerry Tarbot," the so-called nameless and memoryless war veteran whose efforts to reestablish his identity have attracted nationwide attention, was denounced as "a draft dodger and a fake" today by Rep. Royal Johnson, Republican, of South Dakota, chairman of the house committee on veterans' relief, during a hearing on a bill to award Tarbot government compensation.

Johnson asserted he made his statements advisedly and upon the strength of a long investigation conducted by department of justice agents.

Tarbot's real name, Johnson said, is Alexander Dubois, and his father is now working in a hotel in Cuba. His mother, nee Bridget Riley, is dead, according to the federal agents' investigation, Johnson said.

Johnson declared Tarbot has a checkered career including a number of marriages, and in substantiation of his charge he put on the stand at this morning's hearing a Mrs. Flora Lange of Detroit who testified she was married to the purported nameless veteran in Toledo, Ohio, on Dec. 22, 1917, under the name of "Howard Noble."

Mrs. Lange testified she lived with the man two weeks in Erie, Pa., and then finally divorced him in Jan., 1918, on the grounds of "nagging and cruelty."

Tell of Another Wife

Johnson further told the committee that the "veteran" has another wife, his first, living in Schenectady, N. Y.

The department of justice investigation revealed, he said, that Tarbot had been arrested in San Francisco on charges of auto stealing under the name of "Blake." This has been substantiated Johnson said, by comparison of finger prints and other identifying records.

Tarbot has presented himself as a shell-shocked war veteran whose name, memory and past life were left on the battlefields of France. His case has enlisted the sympathy and aid of hundreds of people. He has appeared before veterans' conventions and American Legion posts to afford other veterans a chance to look him over and perhaps help him regain his "lost personality."

Numerous veterans have been found who "remembered" seeing the man in uniform, some in France, some in this country, but all of his identifiers fell short of pinning anything definite on him as regards his identity.

"This is a unique case," said John-

PART OF BUS PERMIT REVERSED BY RULING

Supreme Court Gives Decision in Action Brought by C., D. & M.

The Ohio Supreme Court, in a ruling handed down yesterday, sustained in part an appeal of officials of the C. D. & M. Electric Co. against a permit recently granted by the State Utilities Commission to the firm of Wolfe & Goolke for operation of a bus line between Marion and Marysville through Pharisburg, Magnetic Springs, Richwood and a point near Prospect.

On the ground that there is no common carrier service between Marion and Marysville and none of any kind between Marysville and Richwood, through the intervening points designated in the commission's order, the Supreme Court affirmed that portion of the permit.

The Court decreed, however, that no permit should be granted for bus operation between Marion and Prospect, due to the fact that the C. D. & M. and the Hocking Valley railway both operate between these points.

The Court decree also reverses the commission's grant of a permit over the route between Richwood and Prospect because P. H. Perry is now operating a motor transportation between these points. The commission was instructed, however, to determine whether Perry is furnishing adequate service and, if not, to give him reasonable time in which to do so.

DAUGHERTY AND MILLER AWAIT JURY VERDICT

Thirteen Hours Used in Deliberation on Conspiracy Charges of Government

ASKS TESTIMONY READ

Federal Judge Grants Body Hour for Lunch at 1 O'Clock

New York, Mar. 2—The jury in the second trial of former Attorney General Harry M. Daugherty and former Alien Property Custodian Thomas W. Miller resumed their deliberations at 10:30 o'clock this morning after having been locked up at the hotel McAlpin at 11:30 o'clock last night by order of Federal Judge Knox.

The jury, when it resumed its deliberations this morning, already had considered the case for 10½ hours.

Daugherty and Miller are charged with conspiracy in connection with the $7,000,000 American Metal Co. claim against the government.

No Hint Given

There was no hint on how the jury stood.

In the first trial last September the jury was unable to agree in 62 hours.

Shortly before noon the jury came back into the courtroom with a request that certain testimony be read to them. This dealt with the payment by the late Jess Smith, confidential aide to Daugherty, of $37,500, as a partial payment on certain political debts. Buckner read over testimony regarding this matter, which had been given by Mal Daugherty, brother of the former attorney general.

Allowed Lunch Time

The jurors also wanted to know how long after this payment Jess Smith committed suicide. It was just five days. Lawrence Cowan, the foreman, then asked who actually signed the $7,000,000 claim approval and was told that it was signed by Guy D. Goff, assistant to Daugherty, and initialed by Adnah Johnson. Considerable testimony was read dealing with Smith's payment and how it was made.

At 1 o'clock the jurors decided they needed some lunch, and Judge Knox gave them until 2 o'clock.

REPORTS OF AMERICAN CASUALTIES ARE DENIED

Admiral Latimer Forwards Communication to Rear Admiral Eberle

Washington, Mar. 2—A sweeping denial was made by the state department today of published reports that some American marines have been killed and wounded in fighting with Nicaraguan Liberals.

So far as the department has been advised by Admiral J. K. Latimer, the American commander of the occupational forces, not a single American marine or bluejacket has been killed in any "engagements" with the Nicaraguan revolutionists, it was claimed.

Published reports stated there have been American casualties which have been concealed by the censorship established by Latimer.

Rear Admiral E. A. Eberle, chief of operations, to whom Latimer reports direct, said reports of American casualties in Nicaragua are absolutely false.

Columbus Engineer Tells City Officials, Business Men of Benefits of Zoning Law

Special Map for Marion Stressed at Conference at City Hall; Indicate Steps Will Be Taken To Procure New Plat

[illegible] of city zoning in protect[illegible] [illegible] perty [illegible] in promoting general [illegible] movement has been defin[illegible] [illegible] is steadily gaining [illegible] the public Ralph C. [illegible] the City Planning [illegible] Columbus informed [illegible] and municipal offi[illegible] held in the Council [illegible] night.

[illegible] system of zoning was [illegible] by Mr. Chaney, who came here in response to [illegible] tation from the Marion Real [illegible] Board. The zoning question [illegible] attracted unusual attention in recent months as the result [illegible] posals which have been made [illegible] for extending the com[illegible] mercial district into territory [illegible] restricted to residence [illegible]

Need Stressed

The need of a special [illegible] for Marion was brought out [illegible] at last night's meeting, [illegible] which was specially designed [illegible] is regarded as [illegible] largely to the fact that it does not provide an adequate [illegible] of the original [illegible] and changes that [illegible] at different times.

It was indicated that steps will be taken to have a new zoning map similar [illegible] used in Columbus [illegible] for this city as soon as finances [illegible]

In Columbus, Mr. Chaney stated, no [illegible] for construction of business [illegible] in residence districts are [illegible] and no extensions of the com[illegible] territory are made unless petitions are filed by property owners. After receipt of these petitions, public [illegible] are held and no action is [illegible] until interested citizens have [illegible] an opportunity to state their views.

It was indicated that a similar plan [illegible] be adopted for use in Marion.

Future Plans

Mr. Chaney said experience has shown that it is advisable to plan years [illegible] for future development and extension of a city. Failure to do this in Columbus has been costly for that city, he stated, mentioning several changes in streets which have become necessary as the result of modern traffic and business conditions. These changes will cost vastly more than the expense would have been had the city looked ahead and done the work a number of years ago.

A recent survey showed that approximately 450 cities have adopted the city planning and zoning system and there are now very few communities of more than 25,000 population which do not have such regulations, the Columbus engineer said:

General Application

At Columbus, the speaker said, the zoning regulations apply to all of the city and also territory within a radius of three miles outside the city limits. This is authorized by state law, Mr. Chaney stated.

In Columbus, council has final [illegible] city in connection with applications for business building permits in residence districts and on proposed zoning changes and extensions, which is virtually the same as the plan in effect in Marion. Last year, Mr. Chaney stated, 85 per cent. of the City Planning Commission's recommendations were approved by council.

The meeting addressed by Mr. Chaney followed the semi-monthly dinner of the Marion Real Estate Board held at Hotel Harding. His talk was heard by members of the board, a number of other business men, and a group of city officials including Mayor Hazen, Service Director Benedict, City Engineer Cathers, City Solicitor Geran, and Fire Chief McFarland. Mayor Hazen is president of the local City Planning Commission. Other members of the commission present were E. H. Cowan and Charles E. Merkel.

BEHIND THE SCREEN

Estelle Taylor

Ever since Estelle Taylor became Mrs. Jack Dempsey her film prestige has increased rapidly. At first critics began to notice her because she was the wife of the then heavyweight champion of the world, later they came to recognize her ability. Miss Taylor is under contract to United Artists and if present plans are carried out she will be featured in her next picture.

AMONG the interesting films shown in New York in recent months is "Stark Love", a story of the mountain folk of Tennessee and filmed in the Great Smokies. Karl Brown, formerly cameraman for James Cruze took a group of assistants into the mountains and used as his actors the inhabitants of the region. Before each scene was to be shot he explained the ensuing bit of action to the cast.

Considerable difficulty was experienced in obtaining a leading woman. Brown found two mountain girls of the type he required only to learn that one had a father who thought "play acting" connected with the devil and the family of the other girl was having a feud with another tribe who lived on the road between her cabin and the place where the pictures were being taken. Since Brown hesitated to guarantee her safe conduct to and from work he had to look for another leading woman.

One of the assistants finally discovered a girl working in a Knoxville drug store who displayed a natural aptitude for acting. She also was the only one of the company of 50 who had seen a motion picture.

The film cost about $113,000, a half or third of the cost of an average feature production. If the picture "gets across" throughout the country Famous Players may be inclined to make further dramas based on the everyday lives of these mountaineers who pressed westward in the early days of America's history, then were left behind in the march of progress.

There soon will be 100 rush weddings in Hollywood, but none of the participants will be actually married when it is ended.

This wholesale matrimonial business represents a sequence in Wallace Beery's starring comedy, "The Big Sneeze," which James Cruze is directing. As yet Famous Players haven't found another actor to take Raymond Hatton's place in the famous Beery-Hatton team.

The curious will get their first glimpse of Maria Corda, German actress, recently signed by First National, in "Madame Wants No Children," a comedy made abroad by William Fox. He plans to continue making pictures at his Berlin studio although Mme. Corda and her director husband have left the Fox organization. "Therin", and "Adventure of a Bank Note", are two of the completed productions of the Berlin studio which have not reached this country.

Eric Pommer has been placed under contract to M-G-M perhaps because they have heard that the temperamental Greta Garbo will listen when he speaks. However they are still going ahead with plans to have Jeanne Eagels, star of the stage play, "Rain", play the role in "Anna Karenina" originally assigned to Miss Garbo.

Francis X. Bushman, perfect lover of a decade ago and more recently renowned as the villain of "Ben Hur", plays the role of "George Washington" in "The Flag", one of a series of productions done in technicolor based on historical moments in the lives of great persons. In the old Essanay days the star played the part of Washington in a picture titled, "Red, White and Blue."

Billie Dove traversed the 1600 miles between Paris and Petrograd by moving some 30 feet during the filming of scenes of "The Tender Hour." Adjoining sets on the same stage represented dwellings in those two cities.

BARE BANK RECORDS OF ALLEGED BOOTLEG "RING"

Cleveland, Mar. 2—Bank records of alleged ring members will play an important part in evidence to be presented here today to the federal grand jury investigating the Pennsylvania-Ohio "Beer Ring."

Through a number of deposit slips, checks and drafts, U. S. District Attorney A. E. Bernsteen expects to show the financial transactions of the "million dollar beer runners."

Many Pennsylvania bankers and bank employes were on hand to testify.

FOUR ARRESTED IN PROBE OF O.N.G. PAYROLL PADDING

Cleveland, Mar. 2—Full information concerning alleged fraud in Ohio National Guard payrolls has been placed in the hands of Adjutant General Henderson at Columbus, it was learned here today.

To date, four officers have been arrested in connection with the payroll padding. More arrests are expected today.

ELLIOTT NUGENT WILL BE HERE IN "POOR NUT"

Marion To See Original New York and Chicago Cast

Something unique in theatrical booking is being carried out in connection with the tour of Elliott Nugent in "The Poor Nut" coming to the Grand Theater, Wednesday night, Mar. 9, for one performance.

Young Nugent, star and co-author of the comedy, is an Ohio boy and an alumnus of Ohio State University. "The Poor Nut," depicting the human and humorous side of college life, has Ohio State as its locale.

Because of this unusual combination of circumstances, Nugent is making what his producer, Patterson McNutt, chooses to call a "Buckeye Tour," covering all Ohio cities where theaters are available for dramatic productions. This itinerary covers a period of ten weeks, six of which have been played with amazing success. In the majority of cities the play has been so well received that house records have been broken.

"The Poor Nut" comes to Marion following record weeks at the Hartman in Columbus, the Ohio Theater in Cleveland and the Grand Theater in Cincinnati; having previously played for 42 weeks on Broadway, 20 weeks in Chicago, 10 weeks in Boston and 8 weeks in Philadelphia.

The cast of "The Poor Nut" is an unusually large one for a dramatic production, in this instance consisting of thirty people. Forty extra players are recruited in each locality to lend collegiate atmosphere to the big stadium scene where John Miller, the "poor nut," saves the day for dear, old Ohio by winning an exciting relay race by a close margin from "Spike" Hoyt, crack Wisconsin track man.

Patterson McNutt, the producer, has gone on record as saying that the plan of concentrated booking with original New York casts will do much to remedy the so-called "bad business" of the road, and points with pardonable pride to the splendid achievement of "The Poor Nut."

MORE CASH IS IN SIGHT FOR CITY WORKMEN

Pepgen, which is Nature's greatest system tonic will be responsible for putting thousands of extra dollars into the hands of this city's working population during the coming fiscal year. This is because it makes people healthy and enables them to keep right on working.

S. Duggin, 416 N. 16th St., Elwood, Ind., writes: "For three years I suffered with stomach and the little I ate caused indigestion. My nerves gave way and my entire system was run down. I was constipated and felt tired and worn out.

"Pepgen relieved my stomach trouble and now I'm eating heartily. I am stronger and do not have to take any more laxatives. My entire nervous system has been greatly strengthened."

If you don't feel well try Pepgen. It has helped others and you may confidently expect it to do the same for you. Sold by Bradley's Drug Store, Marion, Ohio, and other well stocked drug stores everywhere.—Adv.

Instant Sleep

when you go to bed"

Try this delightful, new food-drink from Switzerland—that brings all-night sleep, all-day energy. We offer you a 3-day test

When you go to bed do your nerves stay up? Leaving you dragged out on the morrow—your mornings logy, your energy drained by afternoon? Modern science has found a natural way (a way without drugs) to overcome this; to instant restful sleep that quickly restores your tired mind and body.

Morning finds you a new woman. You are fresh, clear-eyed, buoyant. Youthful in looks and spirit. You have energy to carry you through the day and the evening's social activities.

That is the experience of most Ovaltine users.

The 3-day test we offer here will show you. We urge you to make this test. It is worth while.

Why Ovaltine brings restoring sleep

First—It digests very quickly. Even in cases of impaired digestion.

Second—It supplies your system with certain health-building essentials which are often missing from your daily fare. One cup of Ovaltine has actually more food value than 12 cups of beef extract.

Third—Ovaltine has the unusual power of digesting 4 to 5 times its own weight of other foods you eat. Hence digestion goes on speedily and efficiently. As a result frayed nerves are soothed because digestive unrest, the main cause of sleeplessness, is overcome.

This is why, when taken at night, a cup of Ovaltine brings sound restoring sleep in a natural way. And as you sleep the quick assimilation of nourishment is also restoring to the entire body. Thus you gather new strength and energy for the next day.

Hospitals and doctors recommend it

Ovaltine is a delightful pure food-drink. It has been used in Switzerland for 30 years and is now in universal use in England and her colonies. During the great war Ovaltine was included as a standard ration for invalid soldiers.

A few years ago Ovaltine was introduced into this country. Today it is used in hundreds of hospitals. More than 20,000 doctors recommend it. Not only as a quick "pick-up" beverage, but because of its special dietetic properties, they also recommend it for restless sleep, nerve-strain, malnutrition, backward children and the aged.

Many take a cup of Ovaltine two or three times a day for its natural stimulation. It's truly a "pick-up" drink.

A 3-day test

All druggists sell Ovaltine in four sizes for home use. Or they can mix it for you at the soda fountain. But to let you try it we will send a 3-day introductory package for 10 cents to cover cost of packing and mailing. Just send in the coupon with 10 cents.

AT THE FIRST WHITE WARNING

CONTROL DANDRUFF!

DON'T dally with loose dandruff (epithelial debris) for one moment.

Always unsightly, it is often the danger signal of very serious scalp trouble—possible loss of hair, or worse, humiliating baldness.

Go after loose dandruff in earnest at the first white warning.

The systematic use of Listerine will usually do the trick. Nothing complicated about it, either.

You simply douse it on the scalp full strength and massage thoroly. Use plenty of it. And do it systematically. You will be simply delighted with the results in a very short time.

Aside from its ability to check dandruff, Listerine has an exhilarating effect that makes your scalp feel clean, soothed and healthy. Lambert Pharmacal Co., St. Louis, Mo.

A Postscript for Ladies

Few preparations equal Listerine as a means of keeping hair well groomed. It seems to have a natural faculty for keeping the hair in a glossy wave and renewing its life after a "permanent."

The price of Listerine Tooth Paste for a large tube is 25¢. This price coupled with the effectiveness of the paste itself is a combination you'll like.

Daily Proverb—"Call not the devil; he will come fast enough unbidden."

Well, you could hardly call it a lamb. On the other hand, it didn't have much of a roar.

Cheer up! Even though the groundhog were right, there will be but two weeks more of it.

Speaking about those invitations to the powers to get together and disarm, it seems to be a stand-off between the acceptances and the regrets.

It must be an awful feeling which a contender in the world of sport has to undergo when the experts pick him out as the probable winner.

Many a city chap, as he reads of the hard cider on the farm, wishes from the bottom of his heart that he had a little farm relief.

Our idea of a bit of unconscious humor is that of the fellow who has predicted that Chicago "will be" wide open in the event that the Republican mayoralty candidate is elected up there.

Two-thirds of the stipulated six weeks having passed into history, the best we can say of Mr. Groundhog as a weather prophet is that he's an in-and-outer.

Three thousand, five hundred tons of hair are said to have been cut from the heads of 14,000,000 women and girls since bobbed hair was revived. It doesn't matter greatly what it is worth now, but what will it cost the fair ones when they seek to buy it back?

Still, if all the farmers who were opposed to the vetoed McNary-Haugen bill are for Mr. Coolidge, he has no occasion for concern about a second elective term.

The Republicans up in Chicago may have figured that conditions up there weren't worse under former Mayor Thompson than they are now, possibly not stopping to consider that the gangsters and gunmen have had opportunity to increase in number and improve their talent since his time.

We can hardly blame Mr. Insull for refusing to talk about that money. If we had been as badly fooled as he has been we would be just as ashamed of it in all probability as he is.

A poker department, as has been suggested by a Columbus afternoon paper, might prove a popular newspaper feature in some localities, but it's hardly probable that it would prove of much assistance to one going up against the local leather-apron game, another name for which might well be cinch.

We note an editorial heading in the Philadelphia Record, "Neglected Streets," from which we assume that the "City of Brotherly Love" also has a Center street and a north State.

Poor, Poverty-Stricken France.

Despite all the pleas of governmental poverty she has uttered, France has made greater expenditure and greater advancement in the development of the aerial branch of her military establishment than has any other nation of the earth. Just what her aerial fighting strength may be, either in personnel or number of machines, is not known. She has been able to keep the world in ignorance of the full measure of her fighting air forces, but enough is known to establish the fact that she is easily preeminent in the air, and the indications—more than that, the evidences—accumulate that she means to maintain her preeminence.

Not only does she lead all other nations in the number of her trained airmen and the size of her air fleet, but she also possesses fighting planes which are larger, more powerful, faster and possessed of more sustaining power than are those of any other nation.

Her latest development in the aerial fighting line is an immense bomber which is superior to any which has ever taken to the air. It is conceded to be in a class by itself. The new plane—it is said to be an aquaplane—has a built-in wing spread of a few inches over 131 feet, with a maximum wing thickness of about six feet which has withstood tests equal to 150,000 pounds. The great monoplane is eighty-five feet long and the hull is almost eleven feet high and a trifle over thirteen feet broad. Her eight fuel tanks are in the wings. Each has a capacity of 110 gallons, capable of keeping her in the air seven hours at top speed. Her five engines have an aggregate horsepower of 2,100. In test flights along the French coast the machine, which is capable of carrying a crew of twenty-two men and a dead weight of 3,600, acted perfectly and was pronounced a marvel by all the foreign military experts who witnessed her trials.

After further test flights between France and Africa, she will be used as a model for at least a dozen sister machines, each of which will cost, when equipped, practically half a million dollars.

And yet there are those in our land who would have us forgive France the debt she owes us that she may plunge still more in plane construction at $500,000 a plane!

Fatalities to Trespassers Decreasing

We are indebted to the Railway Age for one unexpected development in connection with the construction of paved roads throughout the country, and that is the marked effect they have had in reducing the number of fatal accidents to trespassers upon the rights of way or other properties of railroads. By trespassers, it may be said, is meant any person who may go upon a railroad property without having any employment to perform or business to do. It may be that such a trespasser may be one who seeks to steal a ride, or steal property or merely to walk upon the track.

Until the last decade, fatal accidents to trespassers on railroad property accounted for over a half of the total number of persons killed on railroads and the number of trespassers killed yet exceeds the number of persons killed at railroad crossings. In the last ten years the number of trespassers killed, in spite of the fact that it is still high, has been decreased by an average of seven daily.

In the year ended June 30, 1907, fatal accidents to trespassers reached the maximum, the record of such fatalities for that year being 5,612. Ten years later, the number killed had declined to 4,193. But whereas there were but 697 non trespassers killed at highway crossings twenty years ago, the number of such fatalities ten years ago had increased to 1,838. Thus the total fatalities of the two kinds decreased from 6,309 in 1907 to 6,031 in 1917.

Year before last, 1925, the number of trespassers killed had decreased to 2,584, while the number of non-trespassers killed at highway crossings had gone up to 2,086, a total of 4,670. In the ten year period mentioned it will be noted that the decrease in the number of trespassers killed was almost evened up by the number of non-trespassers killed, but in the succeeding eight years the record shows a marked improvement, the decrease in fatalities in the two classes combined being nearly twenty-three per cent.

The explanation of the big reduction in the number of fatalities to trespassers is that there are fewer trespassers. Years ago when highways were such as to be almost impassable for foot traffic, if not to all kinds, the pedestrians took to railroad tracks to get from place to place, but since the network of hard-surface roads has been extended over the more populous states pedestrians have taken to the highways as the better and safer route for traveling.

The purpose of the Railway Age in developing this information and giving it utterance may be gleaned from the following paragraph in its article:

"It should not be assumed that the entire reduction in railway accidents has been due to these causes. The total number of persons killed on railways in 1907 was 11,839, of which 5,530 were not trespassing or crossing tracks. The total number killed in 1917 was 10,087, of which 4,006 were not trespassing or crossing railway tracks. The total number killed in 1925 was 6,766 of which only 2,096 were neither trespassing nor crossing railway tracks. The reduction since 1917 in the number of persons killed that were neither trespassing nor crossing railway tracks has been about fifty per cent.—a record that probably has not been surpassed in any other field, and which should not be overlooked when it is claimed that the railways should be forced to spend hundreds of millions of dollars to eliminate grade crossings, or to shorten their freight trains, or to do under compulsion various other things to reduce accidents."

There may be some justice in this claim of hardship placed upon the railroads cited by the Railway Age. We have often been inclined to believe that they have been made to bear in the past and are at present being made to bear burdens of expenditures unjustly, and we say this knowing that it's not the popular thing to say. But our reason in bringing up the subject of fatalities to trespassers was because of the fact that the presentation was an absolutely new one to us. In connection therewith it would be interesting to know the number of pedestrians killed on the highways of the country to learn if they more than overbalanced the decrease in fatalities to trespassers on the railroads. Then we would be in position to know the merit of the assumption that walking on the paved highways is safer than tramping the ties.

One reason why the movie people have been unable to locate another Valentino despite the fact that they have raked their ranks with a fine-toothed comb is that he was young, good-looking, graceful and possessed talent. That he stood alone in the possession of this combination made him the screen's greatest money-maker.

We have been doing quite a little "neutralizing" down in Nicaragua, but let us be thankful that the situation is as good as it is and hope that it will not force us to resort to "benevolent assimilation."

The senate frowned upon the plan of Senator Reed, of Missouri, to extend his one-man investigation of primary campaign expenses, which rather goes to show that James feels that his position as a possible presidential candidate might be strengthened, and that even the senate is becoming a bit tired of senatorial pot-shotting for political purposes.

There is a strong trend among the cartoonists, at present, to depict China twisting the British lion's tail, but it is worth remembering that the British lion's tail has stood for an awful lot of twisting in the past and yet is doing business at the same old stand.

Vagrant Verse.

WHEN I AM DEAD.

When I am dead and sister to the dust;
When no more vividly I drink the wine
Of human love, when the pale Proserpine
Has covered me with poppies, and cold rust
Has cut my lyre-strings, and the sun has thrust
Me underground to nourish the world wine,
Men shall discover these old songs of mine,
And say: This woman lived—as poets must!

This woman lived and wore life as a sword
To conquer wisdom; this dead woman read
In the sealed Book of Love and understood
The meanings. Then sails of faith she spread,
And faring out for regions [illegible]
Went singing down the River of the Dead.

Prosperity's Effect on Health.

BY ROYAL S. COPELAND, M. D.

It is not alone the bank deposits which are affected by the prosperity of a country. With desirable economic conditions there are more money and more privileges of every sort.

But prosperity does not end with improved material welfare. It brings with it, too, greater prospect of freedom from certain diseases.

One such disease is tuberculosis. The better the food, the better the housing; the better the clothing, the greater is the chance of escaping this dreadful ailment.

With larger financial income is associated the means for having dental work and essential medical treatment. When business is good the ailing person goes at once to the doctor when uncomfortable symptoms develop. He feels he can not afford to be sick.

We have reason to rejoice over the decreasing death-rate in tuberculosis. Within a period of twenty-five years the percentage of deaths has been cut in two. Instead of being the chief cause of death it has dropped to third place.

The better eating and living conditions of the present day have much to do with the happier outlook. We may look forward with confidence, too, to continued improvement in this field.

While we are thinking about tuberculosis is a good time to speak of certain signs which demand attention because they may be pointing toward this dread disease. It is well to know their meaning so that early attention will be given to cause their removal.

Here is what a distinguished physician, a recognized authority on tuberculosis, said recently on this subject:

"There are six danger signals which should be watched for, especially in children.

"First, persistent underweight; children and thin people should be weighed frequently and sent for examination if they do not gain as fast as they should.

"Second, unusual fatigue.

"Third, any cough which lasts a month or more.

"Fourth, any spitting of blood, no matter how slight—remember, this may be the only symptom.

"Fifth, a recurrent tendency to colds or fevers—it is very dangerous to disregard what so many people consider 'just a little cold,' or feverishness.

"Sixth, a slight, persistent cough.

"No single one of these danger signals should be ignored, and when two or more of them are present, it is especially important to consult a physician immediately.

"Remember that good food, fresh air and plenty of rest will cure the disease in its early stages."

ANSWERS TO HEALTH QUERIES.

L. J. J. Q.—Is there any way to cure cramps in the stomach?

A.—First of all, determine the cause of the trouble. In most instances, indigestion is the cause. Watch the diet and avoid constipation. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.—Copyright, 1927.

It marks the beginning of Lent.

Q. Why are some smelter smoke stacks built so high? G. J.

A. The largest stack in the world is at a smelter in Tacoma, Washington. This is 572 feet high. The second highest is at Anaconda, and the third highest in the world is located in Japan. These high stacks serve two purposes. First to give sufficient draft and secondly to carry the objectionable gases to such a height that they would be sufficiently diluted with the pure air spreaders so as to be carried off and not settle on the surrounding neighborhood.

Q. What are pelagic animals? N. S.

A. Pelagic is a form of a Greek word which means relating to the open sea, and pelagic animals are the surface fauna which live on the high seas, far from land.

Q. Is the number of farms in the United States known? L. L.

A. As enumerated by the United States bureau of the census there were 6,372,263 in 1925.

Q. Should beef be eaten rare? C. E. G.

A. Most members of the medical profession say that beef should be cooked until well done, the same as lamb, veal or pork. This is because meat of any kind is apt to contain tapeworms and other organisms. Proper cooking will kill these at the egg stage.

Q. Who made the first magnifying glass? F. R. E.

A. The first magnifying lens was made by Antony van Leeuwenhoek, a naturalist born in Holland.

Q. How can ivory be distinguished from its imitations? M. M. B.

A. Genuine ivory can be detected by examining its structure. In pure ivory, little waves may be seen under the microscope if not by the naked eye. If the ivory is artificial, little holes can be detected in the bone.

New York Day by Day.

BY O. O. M'INTYRE.

New York, March 2—There are a number of hotels in the Forties whose patronage is almost exclusively chorus girls. The hotels drowse, like their occupants, through the morning and there is little show of life until around noon.

Many patrons fail to observe the trifling conventionalities, such as cooking breakfast in the room, drying stockings at street window sills or bursting into song after midnight. There is an easy club-like camaraderie after the theater.

Kimonaed figures flit through halls, visiting this friend and the other. And dogs are not unwelcome. The management does not look askance at those who have been out cafe-ing and come in potted like geraniums at sun-up.

Now and then tragedy stalks the dingy corridors. There is a piercing scream, surging crowd, clanging ambulance and some unfortunate girl "tired of it all" is rushed to a hospital with acid seared lips. But the overtone is careless gaiety.

It is the chorus girl's lot to live for the moment. She becomes a chronic scoffer of fate. Two weeks' rehearsals and a week's run may end in a sudden closing and the weary quest for a new job. These things she accepts with the lightness of champagne foam.

Their brittle, blase talk, I believe, is a mere gesture to hide emotions. There are few whiners and no class has a greater sympathy for those in adversity. The consuming fear of the chorus girl is to return home a failure.

Actors and actresses are often notoriously bad pay as bankruptcy courts reveal, but the chorus girl is not. It is recorded that the famous Madam Bartholdi, whose hotel was long their haven, lost only three chorus girls accounts. Theatrical hotels will trust them for many weeks when they are jobless.

There is justification for New York's police force being hailed as "the finest." Visitors are always impressed by their magnificent physique and epic appearance. The most Apolloesque figures are those on the Fifth avenue traffic squad. They have a dignified courtesy. And they seem entirely impervious to fine ladies' blandishments. They keep their heads. The Broadway crew has a collegiate look. They are younger. The mounted men on sleek caracoling chargers in Central park are true cavaliers. They have the dash of heroes in pages of romance. It is in the day's work to rescue some white-faced lady whose mount bolts on the bridle path. For certain rugged districts there are "flatties" who talk out of the side of the mouth and maintain a hard-boiled manner, but they are needed. The police parade in New York offers the finest spectacle of physical manhood to be found on the globe.

The above, in a fashion, is turning a wan cheek to a crossing cop at Forty-Second and Fifth avenue at noon yesterday, who, when I jockeyed back and forth to reach a safety isle, called out: "Will a wheel chair be of service?" That, in three words, was a dirty dig.

Maxwell Bodenheim is said to run second to the versatile Roy McCardell as a contest prize winner. McCardell has garnered a home, several automobiles and more than 25,000 winning prizes. Every once in awhile a hobo writer bobs up for recognition—and seems to get it. By the simple process of writing language that should be expurgated and of themes not discussed in polite society. The latest in New York is a hobo lecturer who is asking $100 for drawing-room "readings." How the gay cats must chuckle over their mulligan stew!—Copyright, 1927.

Dinner Stories.

A young college man was courting the beautiful daughter of a wealthy, but uneducated bootlegger. He had proposed and was now attempting to secure the consent of her parent. "Lokka here," he was told, "I would not let you marry my gal, if you wuz the last man on earth. And what's furthermore, I don't want her to have nothing more to do wid yuh? Now is that plain English?"

"Oh, yes, it's plain enough," replied the suitor, "but it isn't English."

A slight variance from the old story of the man who cut two holes in his door—a big one for the old mother cat and a little one for the kitten—is told on Sam Ross. Sam cut four holes in a door, one for each of his cats. When asked why one hole wouldn't have been sufficient for all the cats, Sam replied: "Brother, when I says 'Scat' I means scat!"

The nervous passenger approached the captain timidly.

"What would happen, sir," she asked, "if we struck a large iceberg?"

"The iceberg would pass along as if nothing had happened," replied the captain.

And the old lady was very much relieved.

Two children, a brother and sister, had a dispute which ended in a fight. The little boy was on a visit to his aunt's, and, wishing to relate the affair, he said: "Me and sister had a fight."

"And who whipped?" the aunt asked.

"Dad did!" answered the little fellow, honestly.

Squire Johnson had been to New York and had a suit made at a fashionable tailor's. When he got home and tried the suit on he found it was too small on him.

"By gosh!" he ejaculated, "a big concern like that making my suit too small for me."

"You must remember, Squire," said his friend, "that you are not such a big man in New York as you are here in Squeedunk!"

MONEY DOCTORS STILL RAISE SPOTS ON BILLS

One Dollar That "Became" $20 Found at Marion Post-office Today

Marion's expert "money doctors" still are at work in the city, it was indicated today when another $1 bill which had been skillfully raised to $20, was discovered at the local postoffice.

The bill was presented at the money order window at the postoffice this morning by Don Hoch… of Bennet-st, who had received it in connection with a transaction at a local store.

An effort will be made to trace the doctored money to persons through whom it passed before reaching the store although similar investigations made in connection with other raised bills discovered here during the last month have proved fruitless.

Several weeks ago two $1 bills which had been raised to $10 were received by the National City Bank and Trust Co. from a depositor and last week two of the $5 variety turned up, one at Richman Bros. Clothing store on S. Main-st and the other at the West Side Bank.

The workmanship on all of the doctored money is cleverly executed and there are indications that the various bills came from the same source.

CITY PRISON SHELTERS 780 TRAMPS IN MONTH

"Register" at "Municipal Hotel" Largest in History of "Hostelry"

Marion's city prison provided shelter and lodging for 780 tramps and other vagrants during the cold and blustery nights of February, the monthly report of the local police department shows.

This is one of the largest monthly totals ever listed on the register of the city's free lodging house, the record shows. In February of last year there were only 760 guests registered.

The report, completed today by Desk Sergeant Claude S. Wertz, also shows that police activities during February included 90 arrests, three searches of property for evidence of liquor law violations, one automobile theft, one bicycle theft, 141 calls for police aid and 163 complaints.

In February, 1926, there were 53 arrests and five autos were stolen.

SPRING BOOM IN REAL ESTATE IS STARTED HERE

Large Number of Transfers Filed in Office of County Recorder

Marion's spring boom in real estate is under way.

This is indicated in the large number of real estate transfers filed in the office of County Recorder Charles E. Smith within the last two days. Thirty-nine had been filed up until noon today. This number is expected to be increased to more than 50 before the close of the day.

Activity is not limited to city property, the records disclose. Many of the transferred filed within the last few days involved good-sized tracts of farm land.

While the records in the office of City Clerk Harry Stofer indicated that little building was done in the city during the month just closed real estate operators claim that February saw more building activity than the permit records disclose. A majority are optimistic over the outlook for this and following months.

Rev. H. E. Williamson, pastor of Oakland Evangelical Church, gave an interesting talk at a meeting of members of the Oakland Heights Community Club held Monday night at the school building.

John Lacey opened the program with a vocal solo, "Spring Flowers," with piano accompaniment played by Mrs. Lacey. A military drill was given by students of the school after which Miss Laura Mae Collins entertained with a piano reading and John and Theodore Lacey with a vocal duet. The banner was awarded Miss Grace Baldwin's seventh grade class for having the largest number of parents in attendance.

During the social hour refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mrs. Y. Gast, Mrs. Edna Green, Mrs. F. L. Hughs, Mrs. O. L. Hagenburgh, Mrs. C. R. Hall, and Mrs Homer Hunily. The next meeting will be held the afternoon of April 5 at the school building.

WARNER ARGUES FOR REPEAL OF PENCE MEASURE

Cites Difference in Tax and Rate-Making Values of Water Property

Marion water consumers are paying rates for service based on a valuation of $1,250,000 while the Marion Water Co. is paying taxes on a valuation of only $168,000, Fred W. Warner, Republican State Central Committee chairman, told the Ohio Public Utilities Commission this afternoon in his argument for repeal of the Pence law.

Mr. Warner spoke in support of the bill sponsored by State Senator William R. Cumings, Elyria. This proposed measure seeks repeal of the Pence law which permits public utilities to collect protested rates by filing refund bonds.

"The method of making customers of a utility pay for a service, the fair cost of which has not been determined, is inherently wrong," Mr. Warner said.

Present System

"Under the present system citizens are obliged to pay increased rates sought by a utility for long periods of time before an adjudication of the rates is established. Hearings are held and the cases continued almost indefinitely.

"The Marion County Telephone Co. case was practically completed almost a year ago and still the fairness of the rates changed has not been determined. Since that time the personnel of the Ohio Public Utilities Commission has been changed and officers in charge of municipal affairs have gone out of office.

"In checking over the Marion Water Co. rate boost case I find that the company is paying taxes on a valuation of $168,000 while it is charging its customers rates on a valuaton of $1,250,000.

Refund Provision

Referring to the refund bond provision Mr. Warner said that "under the present system the public is placed in the position of having to establish its right to recover money collected in excess of the rate agreed upon, after a finding had been made that the rate was unfair.

"The utilities," Mr. Warner charged, "appreciate that the cost and expense to the individual in recovering the excess charged is so great and the time necessary for gathering all receipts so bothersome that the average individual will lose the claim rather than try to establish it.

"Operating on this theory the utilities are enabled to retain vast sums of money to which they are not entitled," he concluded.

$1,172.19 COLLECTED IN FINES, COSTS IN MONTH

Of This Amount $995.69 Goes to City; Remainder to County Treasury

Collection of fines and costs in the local Municipal Court during February, the second month of the court's operation, totalled $1,172.19, a report completed today showed.

Of this amount $995.69 goes to the city for payment of municipal operating expenses and $176.50 is turned over to the county. The payment to the county consists of money collected in fines assessed in criminal cases tried under the state law. The city's share is from fines in criminal actions brought under city ordinances and from costs assessed in both criminal and civil proceedings.

Under provisions of the local Municipal Court statute, money from fines, amounting last month to $584.25, is credited to the public safety fund, from which police and fire department expenses are paid, and that collected in costs, $411.44, goes to the general fund.

Since the court began operating on Jan. 1, sixty-nine civil suits involving money or property valued at less than $300 and four suits for more than $300 have been filed. Last month 128 criminal cases, resulting from arrests on various charges, were listed on the court docket.

HOWARD MOORE STILL IN SERIOUS CONDITION

The condition of Howard Moore, 35, 643 Fish-av, machinist, who was injured at noon yesterday when he was caught between two rods while dismantling a locomotive in the local Erie yards, remains serious, according to report made by City Hospital authorities today. A slight improvement is shown over his condition yesterday, however.

His only injuries were a severely crushed chest and minor bruises.

ARREST BARES DEATH, TERROR SHANGHAI PLOT

Agitators Planned To Enforce General Strike When City Is Captured, Claim

Shanghai, Mar. 2.—A wholesale murder and terrorization campaign instigated by agitators aiming to enforce a general strike immediately the nationalist army succeeds in capturing Shanghai was uncovered here today through the arrest of an assassin, caught red-handed. The assassin had just killed a mill foreman.

It was also revealed that the agitators planned to set up a local government by committee.

The assassin confessed to the murder, telling the court he received $15 for the crime.

Spread Dragnet

The authorities today spread a police dragnet over the city in an attempt to round up all paid thugs and exterminate the "labor protection society."

The military situation still brewed today. A battalion of Shantung infantry has been dispatched to Sungkiang, forecasting active participation by the Fengtien troops in the defense of Shanghai.

It is reported from Nanking that General Sun Chuan Fang has tendered his resignation to Marshal Chang Tso-Lin, following what is believed to have been the compulsory replacement of General Meng Chao Yoeh, Sun Chuan Fang's field commander at Sungkiang, by General Lu Shang Ting, one of the Shangtung generals. Sun's army of 24,000 is reported withdrawing from Sungkiang.

son. "If a man who served in France has lost his mind he should be taken care of, but maudlin sentimentality should not control us.

"Jerry Tarbot has been maintained by prominent people. I am now prepared to identify him."

Carter Takes Issue

Rep. Carter, Republican of California, took issue with Johnson and Mrs. Lange. He asserted that many of the incidents which Johnson referred to had previously been investigated and did not support Johnson's conclusions.

Rep. Sweet, Republican of New York, also cross-examined Mrs. Lange severely.

"Much of the record we will produce the committee has never seen," said Johnson. "We will show that Tarbot several years ago gave the names of Dubois and Noble to marines who have never been before the committee.

Jerry—supposedly hard of hearing—sat placidly as Mrs. Lange detailed the details of her marriage.

"Have you ever seen this man before?" asked Johnson.

"Yes."

"Were you married?"

"Once."

Hazy on Details

She said that Tarbot was working for the American Car and Foundry Co. and that she had a rooming house in Detroit.

After marrying him in Toledo they went to Erie, Pa., she said. She obtained a divorce on grounds of nagging and "general cruelty", she said.

"There is no question that he is the same man except that he did not have a mustache or a scar on his face," she said. The scar, Jerry claims, was made by a German bayonet.

Mrs. Lange said that she had been married four times, Tarbot being her second husband.

She was hazy on many details. She could not remember the name of the preacher who married them or the judge who divorced her. She knew Tarbot a few months before they married, she said. She could not remember where they lived in Erie, but Johnson declared that justice department agents had found the place.

Second Identifies Him

Mrs. Sue Seipin of Sharon, Pa., was placed on the witness stand. She knew Jerry as Howard Noble in Sharon in 1915, she said. Her name at the time was Sue Kaul, she said.

"There is no doubt but this is the man."

Tarbot, she said, had no scar on his face at that time.

She described him as "a pleasant man," but high tempered.

Tarbot, she said, told her that he was born in New York.

She declared that she hadn't seen Tarbot since 1916 until she stepped in the committee room.

She denied Jerry was a sweetheart—just a friend, she said.

THREE RECEIVED INTO CHURCH AT SERVICES

A. R. Shank, Columbus, Leads Singing at Nazarene Revival Program

A. R. Shank of Columbus led the singing at the revival service at Nazarene Church, S. State-st, last night. Mr. and Mrs. Shank entertained with a vocal duet, "Shining Brighter," with piano accompaniment played by Mrs. Shank. A solo on the handsaw was played by Rev. T. M. Anderson, evangelist.

Three converts were received making a total of five since the opening of the revival last Sunday.

Reverend Anderson preached from the text, "Be filled with the spirit," taken from Ephesians, 5:18.

"To be filled with the spirit is to be wholly consecrated to God," Reverend Anderson said. "Christ should and must be crowned Lord of all in our hearts if we are to be used to lead others to Him."

HERE'S MORE ABOUT
SUNDAY DANCE

of the National Amusement Association, Mrs. Evelyn Scatterday, former dance hall inspector of Columbus, M. B. Calo, president of the Columbus Federation of Labor and W. A. Wentworth, secretary of the Ohio Dairy Products Association.

Dance Hall Blamed

Most of the 1,300 ruined girls who have come to her rescue home at Columbus in 22 years "met their downfall" at dance halls, Mrs. Reams informed the committee.

"But thank God, I never was on a dance floor in my life," Mrs. Reams declared. "I never even was at a party where they played ring around the rosie. I was taught better sense than that."

Her account of the confessions of unfortunate girls was substantiated by Mrs. Stalker, who told of listening to heartaches at midnight and of holding girls' hands to prevent them from committing suicide. She not only opposed Sunday dancing, but also late hours, and believed "we should go back to the old Puritan laws, if you please."

… ation of the Sabbath has led to virtual ruination for other countries in the past, Representative Knapp declared.

Ormsby Replies

This and other references to observance of the Sabbath was answered by Mr. Ormsby, who said, "The Sabbath is a Jewish institution and it was only after the Jew went into bondage that they began to pay much attention to it. Their Sabbath began Friday at sundown and lasted 24 hours.

"Sunday was not established by God. It was created as a day of rest by the council of Laodicea in 363 A. D.," Mr. Ormsby averred.

"I wonder what Christ, the author of the Christian religion, who did not teach strife or fanaticism, would say about this?" Mr. Ormsby said. "Would He say, 'Sell all thou hast and register as a paid lobbyist opposed to personal liberty?' He never accepted money to go before the lawmakers of Rome."

Ministers Berated

Ormsby berated the Protestant ministers who appeared in favor of the bill, asking, "what would this committee say if Catholics would come here demanding a law to forbid anyone eating meat on Friday or Rabbis would come here asking a law to prohibit eating of hogs"?

Mrs. Scatterday defended boys and girls of the present day, declaring them to be "just as nice as ever."

"Every man and woman of you here always had Sunday night for courting, didn't you?" she inquired. "Think of these boys and girls with no places to go, some of them with homes far worse than no place."

Any person who would admit that modern dancing gyrations cause "lustful passions" would not be safe in church, Mr. Calo asserted.

Phrasing Changed

The Hill proposal as it now stands would place a ban on Sunday dancing and roller skating. His originial bill went so far as to prohibit "like entertainment" but loud outcries of the measure's opponents that this might even prohibit auction bridge, or listening to the radio, caused Hill to strike this phrase out.

The committee is expected to submit its report to the House this afternoon and a vote will probably result there in the next two weeks.

She Wonders If Marriage Will Cure Her Loneliness

BY MRS. VIRGINIA LEE

IS there any cure for loneliness? Is marriage the answer to the craving of lonely people for companionship, or do we have to make up our minds to a certain amount of "aloneness" even when we have those we love with us?

There are many women and men too who have no family ties. Will they be happier married with one whose grave faults they can see even during the courting days?

Read Miss B.'s letter and see what answer you would give to her problem.

"DEAR MRS. LEE: I am an unmarried woman of 58 and am alone in the world. I have many congenial friends and am happy and busy in my work. But, Mrs. Lee, friends, work, even books, music and all the things which make one's life worth while do not take the place of the home with husband and children that I used to dream about when I was a girl. After all, there are times when I am just a lonely woman.

"Now the question is, should I marry a man who has asked me to be his wife? He is 10 years older than I, has never been married, is good looking and makes good money, but he has one fault. He drinks. Not usually to excess, but occasionally, and when he has been drinking he is not very amiable. He has humiliated me once or twice when he has been indulging. I could make a good home for him, Mrs. Lee, and think that maybe if he had a [illegible] place to come to when [illegible] work and home cooked food [illegible] not drink as much. He might [illegible] entirely. What do you think? MISS B.

IT seems to me you are [illegible] to substitute one type of [illegible] for another, Miss B., and it [illegible] tion which is easier to [illegible] you are lonely. All human beings are, and there is no loneliness so deep as that of the person who is [illegible] married. If this suitor [illegible] now wouldn't he [illegible] when you are married to him? You can at least do what you [illegible] without consulting anyone and [illegible] might miss your freedom if you married. On the other hand, you would have some one belonging to you and, as you say, if he had a happy home it might prevent him from drinking so much. I am afraid no one can decide for you. If you care for the man, love and companionship may compensate you for the things you will have to put up with. Every woman should have someone to mother; that is really what you need, and possibly you will find your happiness in taking care of him.

Nature Doesn't Punish Her Any Longer

Menstruation is Nature — but menstrual pain is NOT natural, and not necessary. Science has conquered the painful part. In a harmless — yes, healthful — little tablet called midol.

Midol is a more remarkable means of relieving such pain than even a habit-forming drug. It acts directly on the organs affected by menstruation, and relief comes in five to seven minutes.

Don't have another day of forced quiet, of pain, low spirits or even discomfort! Midol is effective twelve hours or more. Yet it does not depress the heart, is not narcotic, and is utterly harmless. All druggists, 50 cents, in thin aluminum box that fits the smallest purse.

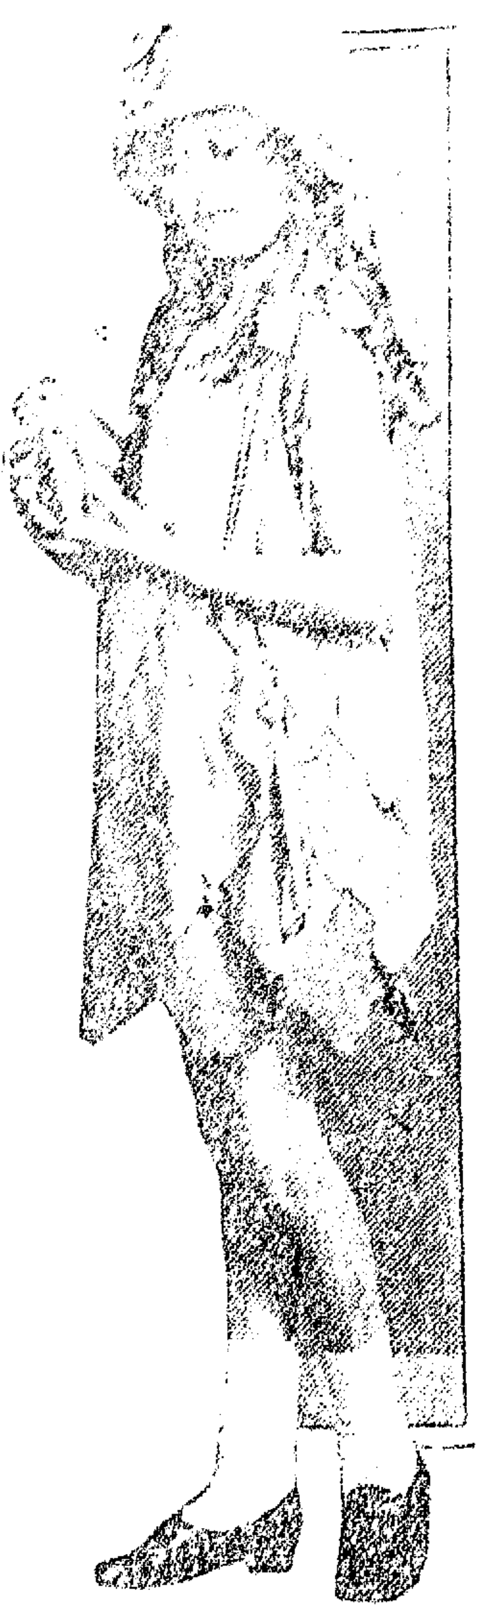
"Only a Rose"



The opening lines of a popular song are suggested by this pretty little frock for the small girl called the "petal" dress. It is fashioned of rose colored georgette.

Two shades of the rose are used and the dress is very simply made, the "petals" and long bows of narrow ribbon on the shoulder and at the waistline being the only decorations. The hat and bag match the dress.

CHAPTER THIRTY-THREE

[illegible] I [illegible] "It's [illegible] appears [illegible] the [illegible] a store or some [illegible] beside her. She [illegible] and good [illegible] Alps. [illegible] he concluded wistfully [illegible] that kind of bed myself."

"Are you ready [illegible] with the [illegible]?" I [illegible]. Somehow I had [illegible] of Patience as a [illegible]

"That" he said grimly, [illegible] on the [illegible]. [illegible] that sweet of all [illegible] depends on what I [illegible] private [illegible]."

"[illegible]" I [illegible] had to [illegible] for [illegible] to save her the [illegible] me."

"Very well," he replied. [illegible] meet again at [illegible] at the caves below [illegible] these police will direct you to be taking the Center [illegible] to that [illegible] devious."

He bade me farewell and [illegible] into the darkness [illegible] with Patience. She was [illegible] but her breathing [illegible] regular, and it did not seem anything very vital was [illegible]. I judged the time [illegible] three and four o'clock in [illegible]. My watch had not [illegible] sudden descent into the well, so I could not be sure. [illegible] in trying to revive [illegible] her in my arms [illegible] the path pointed out by [illegible].

It twisted down the hill [illegible] turning the corner, I [illegible] lights of the Home [illegible] yards to my right. I [illegible] I could but the path [illegible] and dark and, truth [illegible] ting near the end of my [illegible] wet and cold and my [illegible] in the chalet by the [illegible] of the Ring, together [illegible] through the ceiling. [illegible] bruised, and stiff. I [illegible] that I couldn't really [illegible] pered with a helpless [illegible] it was. Patience [illegible] my one thought being [illegible] away from the house [illegible] wondering what on [illegible] with Patience when [illegible]. These were my only [illegible]. I might have [illegible] my emotions [illegible] so strange a fashion [illegible] baffled and perplexed [illegible] throughout our short acquaintance.

CHAPTER THIRTY-FOUR

After a while the [illegible] until presently [illegible] of [illegible] other corner by a [illegible] I struck the main road. I set down my burden and rested a moment. Soon I started off again [illegible] following [illegible] instructions [illegible] to the left. I had gone only a few paces farther when Patience stirred in my arms.

I stopped. She moved again and then opened her eyes [illegible] looked up at me.

"What's happened? Who are you?" she asked in a [illegible].

"It's all right," I reassured her.

"Why, Robert, is that you?" she murmured.

"Yes," I replied. "And please don't worry."

"I remember now," she said. "It was an avalanche."

I trudged on for a few moments; then she spoke again.

"Why are you carrying me?" she asked. "I can quite easily walk by myself."

She moved as though to slip to the ground, and then collapsed at my feet. I bent quickly down.

"I'm sorry," she murmured, "but I feel as weak as water."

I helped her to a bank by the side of the road, and it was some time before she spoke again. At last she said, "Tell me what's happened. Where am I? How did you get away from the Home?"

"I escaped," I replied briefly, "and I found you lying on the hillside. You must have been hit by a stone, I think."

"I was on my way to the chalet," she said. "There was a big noise in the forest. Then the trees began crashing to the ground in all directions around me, and I lost my balance and fell over or something. I don't know what happened after that."

"You were fortunately not directly in the track of the avalanche," I explained. "Otherwise you'd have been killed."

"Where are you going now?" she asked.

"Basle," I replied. "I will find a hospital or a place where you will be looked after and given proper attention."

"Why don't you take me back to the Home?" she began but then added quickly, "Oh, of course, I forgot. They would have [illegible] you again."

She looked at me in friendly speculation.

"I'm afraid you won't get very far though," she [illegible]. "Doctor Kuntz or my husband will be sending some one to recover [illegible] pretty quickly."

"I don't think they either of them will," I began grimly, but stopped, thinking [illegible] for a moment at any rate it would be wiser not to tell her what had [illegible].

"Why not?" she asked.

"Well," [illegible] I, "for one thing Doctor Kuntz [illegible] not in very good condition when I left him."

"So you escaped with violence," she said, looking at me in [illegible] amusement, and [illegible] forgetting her pain. Then suddenly her expression changed.

"And the Center?" she inquired. [illegible]

"[illegible] your husband?"

"[illegible]" she returned somewhat impatiently.

"I hope that he's not yet aware of my [illegible]," I said warily.

"No, of course not," she nodded.

She evidently concluded that he must have been at the chalet at the time, but she said nothing to me. I wondered why she had not herself been at the Home when I got away, but I was [illegible] for small mercies.

I suggested that we should continue [illegible] way, and she assented. I lifted her again and we went on in silence. [illegible] it was still very dark. [illegible] gradually and a [illegible] in the distance [illegible] could not be very far off. Very soon I had again [illegible] and I stopped, laying Patience [illegible] the grass by the roadside and sat down for a few minutes.

"I wonder how many kilometers we are from Basle?" I said wearily.

"Three," replied Patience, who evidently knew the road. "I'm sorry I'm such a burden to you, Mr. Quexton. [illegible] not better leave me by the roadside?"

"Certainly not," I said. "I couldn't dream of such a thing."

"Why are you doing this," she asked in the manner of one interested in a [illegible] problem. "Am I to be a kind of hostage or something?"

"Certainly not," I said curtly. "I merely intend to take you where you will receive proper attention."

"You are very kind," she said, and I could not tell whether she was grateful or merely amused.

After a few seconds I picked her up once more and proceeded to resume my strange progress. I cannot clearly describe, though I can still recover, the peculiar emotions of that journey. Perhaps the strangest of them all was a feeling of intense loneliness, as I walked down the empty road, carrying in my arms the only living creature in sight between earth and sky, who remained, as ever, remote and inaccessible, though I held her so near.

Then I perceived that the world was at last awake.

The sky was gradually lightening, and there was that pale grayness which precedes the dawn. A few birds twittered sleepily. The sound of horses' hoofs in the distance accompanied by the rumbling of heavy cart wheels broke upon my ears, and, turning around, perceived a light flickering uncertainly some hundred yards behind us.

"Patience," I said, "you are to do just as I tell you. I am going to try and get a lift for us both if I can."

"Very well," she acquiesced.

I stood still in the middle of the road. Presently, the light drew nearer and there loomed above us the outline of a big horse.

"Was wollen Sie?" came a voice in German, as the cart slowed down.

"Are you going to Basle?"

"Yes."

"Could you give us a lift? This lady has hurt herself."

A rough-looking peasant the owner of the voice evidently climbed ponderously down from the cart. He gazed at me and my burden with an expressionless face. Then he spat meditatively.

"Would you mind helping us?" I began again, a note of weariness and impatience creeping into my voice, when some one from the cart answered me.

"Come in, Sir, and bring the poor lady, too. What are you doing there, Heinrich, you great lout? Help the gentleman!"

I looked up gratefully and perceived a wizened old woman, Heinrich's wife or mother, I could not tell which, calling to me from the top of the cart. The back part was piled high with vegetables and fruit, and they were evidently on their way to the market at Basle.

Heinrich approached me in a leisurely fashion and waited stolidly for instructions. I made him get up on to the step of the cart and then placed Patience in his arms. The old lady inside, who appeared strong, despite her aged appearance, took Patience from him and placed her as comfortably as possible. I clambered up on to the back of the cart and seated myself on a wicker basket full of hard things which I took to be cabbages.

To the old lady's questions I explained that we had been on a walking tour together and had got benighted, and that the lady had fallen in the darkness and twisted her ankle severely. While I concocted this tale I feared lest Patience should contradict it, but she seemed too tired and listless and lay quietly back, saying nothing.

Recipes for New and Novel Dishes; Household Ideas and Suggestions

The one-dish meal is a boon to the busy housewife. Most families approve of it, too, so that the woman who is doing her spring sewing or cleaning or has been to the matinee and is late home need not apologize for her meal if she makes it the main dish. These dishes may often be prepared in the morning so that putting into a hot oven for a short time is all that is necessary at dinner time. While you are making the salad and getting the coffee ready to "perk" the dish may be heating.

Grapefruit and Celery Salad

TODAY'S RECIPES

Casserole Dish—Into a buttered casserole slice a layer of potatoes, then a layer of onions, then a layer of ground steak which has been browned with bacon drippings in a skillet. Season each layer with salt and pepper. Over all pour a pint of canned tomatoes, and bake in a moderate oven until vegetables are done. Allow about an hour.

Grapefruit and Celery Salad—Remove all white skin from grapefruit and cut in small pieces. To one cup of prepared grape fruit add one cup diced celery. Serve on lettuce leaves with salad dressing.

Date Pudding—One and one half cups flour, one teaspoon baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, two tablespoons butter, one egg, three-fourths cup milk, one cup dates, one cup nut meats. Bake in sheets about twenty minutes. Serve with whipped cream, foamy sauce or lemon cream sauce.

Careless Washing Spoils the Hair

The simple hair styles of to-day make beautiful hair a necessity.

Luckily, beautiful hair is now easily obtained. It is simply a matter of shampooing.

Proper shampooing makes the hair soft and silky. It brings out all the real life and lustre, all the natural wave and color, and leaves it fresh looking, glossy and bright.

While your hair must have frequent and regular washing to keep it beautiful, it cannot stand the harsh effect of ordinary soaps. The free alkali in ordinary soaps soon dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

That is why discriminating women, everywhere, now use Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo. This clear, pure and entirely greaseless product brings out all the real beauty of the hair and cannot possibly injure.

Two or three teaspoonfuls is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather which cleanses thoroughly and rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

It leaves the hair soft and easy to manage and makes it fairly sparkle with new life, gloss and lustre.

You can get Mulsified Cocoanut Oil Shampoo at any drug store.

A four-ounce bottle lasts for months.

Women's Old-Time Hygiene

Disappearing—New way discards like tissue

By ELLEN J. BUCKLAND

Registered Nurse

THE worries and fear of the uncertain hygienic ways of yesterday are rapidly passing. 8 in 10 better class women employ a new way called Kotex.

✓ Kotex discards like tissue. No laundry, no disposal bother.

Being 5 times as absorbent as ordinary cotton "pads," it permits lighter gowns and frocks without danger. Dance, motor, go about for hours without a moment's doubt.

Deodorizes, too, thus ending all fear of offense. Doctors urge this way.

Many stores have Kotex already wrapped on counters, ready for you to pick up without even asking for it.

Try today and you'll never again risk uncertain old ways. Box of 12 costs only a few cents. Be sure you get the genuine. Only Kotex itself is "like" Kotex.

Filibuster by Senators Remains Unpopular Task

No One Likes It, but All Hate To Rule Against It: May Need It

BY CHARLES P. STEWART

WASHINGTON, Mar. 2—A senate filibuster never is popular, for the simple reason that the filibusters always are in a minority.

ASHURST

A filibuster is resorted to only in the case of some piece of legislation which will pass if it can be brought to a vote. The filibusters' aim is to tie it up, by talk and dilatory parliamentary tactics, until it's too late to vote.

This can't be done early in a session. Neither can it be done at a time when congress needn't adjourn until it gets ready. In either of these situations the filibusters wear out sooner than the majority does.

A filibuster is also impossible in the house of representatives [illegible] the house rules [illegible].

In the senate [illegible] member can [illegible] long as he's physically able [illegible]. Several members [illegible] put up a pretty long [illegible].

The filibuster [illegible] came up in the senate [illegible]. This congress expires [illegible] Friday, March 4. That [illegible] delay of 11 days [illegible] Sunday, would kill [illegible] as this congress is concerned.

ELEVEN days is a pretty [illegible] stretch and the [illegible] can stay in session 24 hours [illegible] continuously. [illegible] for the majority [illegible] in relays.

[illegible] the fight started [illegible] notable filibusters against [illegible] Senators Phipps of Colorado, Ashurst of Arizona, and King of Utah [illegible] it was evident [illegible] they could hold the fort [illegible] public. Besides, they were assured of more or less help.

Senator H. Johnson of California [illegible] the majority, in the effort to force a vote.

Hiram isn't as pugnacious [illegible] scrappy as he used to be, but once [illegible] him started and he's lost none of his old belligerency. From the very outset it was evident that the fur was going to fly, and it did.

Tournament Prospects for Kenton High Dimmed With Three Mainstays on Bench

The condition of the Kenton players was [illegible] by Faculty Manager J. R. T[illegible] who is doubtful as to whether the three players, all mainstays of Coach Burkett's quintet, would be back in the line-up.

With three Lima teams entered it seems highly probable that at least one team from the Allen county will go through as one of the winners. The team that is most likely to do this is St. Rose. Lima South in the other division faces a much harder schedule than the Saints.

Plans are going ahead to take care of one of the largest crowds in the four years that tourneys have been held in Kenton. Lima will probably send the largest delegation due to the three teams entered from there. Findlay and Ada will run a close second and third.

Officials for the tournament have not been announced as yet but will be appointed by H. R. Townsend, state commissioner of high school athletics.

ENTHUSIASM MANIFEST AT FATHER-SON DINNER

John H. Clark Delivers Address at Upper Sandusky Church

Upper Sandusky, Mar. 2—Marked enthusiasm was manifest at the Father and Son banquet given under the auspices of the Men's Bible class of the Methodist Sunday School in the church parlors last night.

To link their lives with the church. He stressed the fact that much crime of the day could be eliminated if there was more interest in the church. That the teaching influence of the church keeps men straight. He urged the fathers and sons to appreciate the practical value of the opportunities of the church.

Fifty dollars was received at this banquet which will go toward the Lincoln Fund of the Methodist Church. G. W. Hovey presided at the banquet with Rev. C. R. Williamson giving the address of welcome.

Her arguments centering around the subject of the debate, "Resolved: That the Allied War Debt to the United States Should Be Cancelled," were given in clear, concise arguments. The second speaker of the evening was Robert Smith, first negative speaker for the Marysville team. He replied giving, as his argument the political, moral and economic reasons why the debts should not be cancelled. His arguments were also given in a very capable manner.

Other speakers for Richwood were Mrs. Vera McClure, second affirmative, William Sloop, third affirmative, and one alternate speaker. The second negative speaker for Marysville was Frederick Zell and the third was Norma Brown, with Elizabeth Hutson as alternate.

It was without a doubt on the rebuttal that the local team won the decision of the judges. All the Richwood speakers gave splendid arguments and surpassed the Marysville team in oratorical ability. However the local speakers came back strong with many contradictions during the rebuttal period.

Honorable mention: Weaver, center, Delaware; McKinley, Harding, guard; Hall, center, Mansfield, and Cline, Delaware, forward.

Mansfield has only one man on the first team and two on the second while Ashland has landed two on the first and one on the second. Delaware has a player on each team as has Bucyrus.

Bob Ruby, forward, and Ray Miller, center, of Ashland, the two highest scorers in the North Central Ohio League this season fill their respective positions on the all-league crew picked by the Star. In addition to being high scorers, both men are excellent floor workers and have shown ability in passing and teamwork during the season.

Kish of Bucyrus is the other forward. He was third high in scoring in the league and is a neat dribbler and defensive man.

Fred McMullen of Mansfield, guard, is captain and guard of the all-league mythical team. [illegible]

BABE RUTH AND RUPPERT BEGIN ARGUMENT TODAY

Babe Will Ask for $100,000 and Col. Ruppert Will Refuse, Says Rumor

New York, Mar. 2—The curtain was to rise here today on the first act of baseball's great extravaganza with "Babe" Ruth, the New York Yankees and a $100,000 contract each playing important roles.

Immediately upon his arrival from the West, the slugger was to visit his wife, seriously ill in St. Vincent's hospital here, after which he will proceed to the offices of the Yankees to sound out Col. Jacob Ruppert on the moot question of his desires to receive a two-year contract for $100,000 a year.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, owner of the club, has intimated that Ruth's demands will not be met, and the slugger declares he will accept nothing less. A compromise, however, seemed likely.

DESPAIRED OF HELP FOR RHEUMATISM

Then found simple treatment that gave immediate relief

For years a prominent man of Townsend, Va., suffered the most torturing pain from rheumatism. When he lay down at night he could not sleep for the aching in joints and muscles. Then he began using Sloan's Liniment and it gave him relief at once.

"I want to say that Sloan's is the greatest rheumatism medicine that is on the market today. I tried every medicine that was recommended to me but Sloan's is the only one that did me any real good," he writes.

Sloan's gives real help because it doesn't just deaden the nerves. By stimulating the circulation, it helps the body to clear out the poisons that are causing the pain.

Just apply lightly without rubbing. Right away you feel a gentle glow of warmth and comfort, and in a short time the pain stops. Get a bottle today. All druggists—35 cents.

TRAINING CAMP CHATTER

LAKELAND, FLA., Mar. 2—All members of the Cleveland Indians were on hand to start training here today with the exception of Luke and Joe Stewell, and Pitcher Sherrod Smith.

Because of his great work as an outfielder last year, Homer Summa may be asked by Manager McCallister to fill the shoes of Tris Speaker in centerfield this season. Speaker is now with the Washington Club.

Sarasota, Fla.—Rogers Hornsby will bat in the clean-up position in the Giants' lineup this season, it was indicated when the slugger was assigned to the fourth position in yesterday's game between the regulars and the scrubs. The regulars won, 6 to 3, but Rajah went hitless.

CLEARWATER, FLA.—A WIRE FROM PITCHER BOB M'GRAW ACCEPTING THE BROOKLYN CLUB'S TERMS LEAVES WILLIE DOAK THE TEAM'S ONLY HOLDOUT, AND WILLIE IS A NOVEL MEMBER OF THE SPECIES. HE DIDN'T PITCH LAST SEASON AND BEFORE SIGNING THIS YEAR, HE INSISTS ON DEMONSTRATING TO MANAGER ROBINSON THAT HE RETAINS HIS OLD TIME SKILL.

St. Petersburg, Fla.—An extra long workout was scheduled for the Yankees today to make up for the brevity of yesterday's session, curtailed by rain.

TOBU

TARPON SPRINGS, FLA.—THE APPARENT RETURN TO OLD TIME FORM OF GEORGE SISLER, WHO IN RECENT SEASONS HAS GIVEN ONLY MEDIOCRE CONTRIBUTIONS WITH HIS BAT, IS THE TALK OF THE BROWNS' CAMP. GEORGE IN HIS INITIAL WORKOUT SWUNG HIS BLUDGEON WITH A VENGEANCE AND FREELY CRACKED THE BALL, INDICATING HIS SINUS TROUBLE HAS LEFT HIM.

Avon Park, Fla.—Interest at the training camp of the Cardinals is enlivened with the arrival of Frankie Frisch, former Giant, who will cavort at the station left vacant by Hornsby.

Jimmy Ring, Billy Southworth and Joe Burns, the latter a recruit catcher, also get into uniform today, leaving only two holdouts, Tommy Thevenow and Flint Rhem.

Shreveport, La.—Manager Ray Schalk of the White Sox was in high spirits today because another hitter had presented himself. He is Ike Boone, last season star walloper of the Pacific Coast League. Boone hit .380 last year.

AVALON, CALIF. — MANAGER JOE McCARTHY, SWARTHY BOSS OF THE CUBS, CENTERED HIS INTEREST TODA NIYAELRO Sbgk TEREST TODAY ON EARL WEBB, NEW BRUIN OUTFIELDER. WEBB IS A .350 HITTER. HE IS NOT NEW IN BIG LEAGUE CIRCLES HAVING PLAYED AT ONE TIME FOR THE NEW YORK GIANTS.

Tampa, Fla.—Tris Speaker was in a Senators' uniform today. The big Texan looked to be in fine shape. Muddy Ruel, the Nat's holdout catcher was due in camp today for a talk with Clark Griffith about the cut in salary which the Washington philanthropist wished on Ruel and a lot of other Nats this year.

San Antonio—Running and throwing have been large features of the training stunts of the Tigers to date. Fielding and batting will come later. Moriarty took practically the complete battery corps on the field today. It was Moriarity's plan to extend the practice session from two hours to three. Shea, the catcher from Sacramento, looks every inch a ballplayer. It would not be astonishing if he displaced one of the regular Tiger catchers.

CINCINNATI—AUGUST HERRMANN, PRESIDENT OF THE CINCINNATI BALL CLUB, ANNOUNCED TODAY THAT BABE PINNELI, ONE OF THE FEW HOLD-OUTS OF THIS SEASON HAS "THOUGHT BETTER OF THE MATTER" AND HAS SIGNED A CONTRACT. PINNELLI WAS EXPECTED TO REPORT FOR SPRING TRAINING IN ORLANDO, FLA., WITHIN A FEW DAYS.

Fort Myers, Fla.—The two squads of Athletics, headed by Capt. Eddie Collins and Jimmy Dykes were to work out again today in separate drills then tomorrow mix in the first of a series of games. Zack Wheat was the cynosure of spectators as the veteran instantly grabbed a bat and started whacking the ball all over the field as soon as he reported. The Branom-Collins-Boley-Hale inner cordon went through another smooth workout, giving promise of being a great double play quartet.

Bradenton, Fla.—Several members of the Phillies were sporting stiff arms and minor bruises today as a result of the second day of the spring training grind. None is serious, however. Young Fresco Thompson, new second baseman, continues to have the most pep of any player in camp. Pitchers John Quinn and Wayland Dean still are missing and McInnis is trying to find out when the men are coming to camp.

A woman recently traveled from San Francisco to New York, making the entire journey by inter-city buses.

VOLLEYBALL GAMES SCHEDULED FOR WALDO

Martel and Waldo Will Play Off Tie in Standing Tonight

The volleyball teams of the Young Men's Farming Club of Martel and Waldo high schools will play off a tie in the standing on the Waldo court tonight. Each team has played 15 games and won 10 and lost five. The match tonight will consist of five games.

There are four other teams in the standing, Green Camp, Prospect, Pleasant and LaRue being included. The winners of each section will meet on a neutral floor to decide the county championship soon.

Games yet to be played are Green Camp vs. Prospect at Green Camp, Green Camp vs. LaRue at Green Camp, Prospect vs. LaRue at Prospect, and LaRue vs. Prospect at Prospect.

The standing at present, all teams combined, follows:

Team.	W.	L.	Pct.

GOLF TOURNEY

This year's tournament for the championships of the Pacific Northwest Golf Association will be held at Victoria, B. C., the week of June 17.

Green Camp Quintet Will Play Gambier; Caledonia to Meet Monroe Township

Prospect Plays Carroll; Harding Must Meet Winner of East-Mt. Vernon Game Should It Defeat Central; Green Camp and Caledonia May Again Clash

Lady Luck did everything else but smile on Harding High basketeers yesterday afternoon when H. P. Swain, of the board of control of the Ohio High School Athletic Association, and George Staten, of Ohio Wesleyan, drew the slips for the first round of the Central District Tournament to be started at Ohio Wesleyan University, Delaware Friday of this week.

The Mariounites must meet Central High of Columbus in the first game Friday night. Central ranks as one of the best teams to appear in the tourney, coming second only to Lancaster in the eyes of sport critics in this section. Harding, according to many critics, is not even in the running.

Should Harding knock off the Central crew they must play the winner of the East High of Columbus, and Mt. Vernon clash. The second game would be played Saturday afternoon or night. Then the survivors of the two preliminary rounds go back to Delaware the following Saturday for the semi-finals in the afternoon and the finals at night.

Green Camp vs. Gambier

Green Camp, Marion County Class B champions, are scheduled to tie up with Gambier. Caledonia must meet Monroe Township, and Prospect is to play Carroll in the first round of play Friday.

Green Camp will play Gambier at one end of the huge Wesleyan gym while Caledonia is fighting it out with Monroe Township at the other end, according to the present schedule. The floor is divided into two sections during the preliminary games and the Marion County champs are booked for the fifth contest while the runners-up, Caledonia, are billed for the sixth game. Prospect will play the game following the other two.

In the past, the tourney has been called at 10 o'clock in the morning. If that is the case this year, the two Marion County teams first to take the floor will probably play about 11:30 Saturday morning. This hour, however, is not official.

May Meet Again

According to the present schedule, if Caledonia and Green Camp should win its first game, the two teams will clash with each other in the second round, Saturday afternoon. Should this occur, one of the greatest crowds ever to represent Marion County at a Delaware tournament is assured. Green Camp defeated Caledonia in the finals here Friday night for the championship of the county.

Lancaster, Circleville and Newark, three of the strongest Class A teams at the tourney, drew byes for the first round. Lancaster will meet Circleville in the second round, and Newark will meet the winner of the South High of Columbus, and Westerville game. Delaware plays West High of Columbus in the first round, with the winner meeting the victor of the Aquinas North High game in the second round.

The class B drawings of the first round to be played Friday are Hartford vs London, Plain City vs Granville, New Albany vs Plainwood, Carington vs Hyatt, Green Camp vs. Gambier, Caledonia vs Monroe Township, Orange vs Arlington, Prospect vs Carroll, Magnetic Springs vs Grandview, Bellepoint vs Bexley, Rushville vs Marysville, Liberty Union vs New Holland, Commercial Point, Lancaster, St. Marys, New Dover and Johnstown were given byes. On the second round Commercial Point will meet Lancaster, St. Marys and New Dover will play Johnstown.

CLASS "A" MEET

Southeastern Ohio Basketball Tournament Booked For This Week End

Concord, O., Mar. 2—The class "A" basketball tournament of Southeastern Ohio high schools will meet for the fourth consecutive season at the Muskingum College gymnasium on March 3, 4, and 5.

All the high schools in this corner of the state that are eligible will enter a squad. They come from Bellaire, Cambridge, Coshocton, Dover, East Liverpool, Steubenville, Wellsville and Zanesville.

The brand of basketball these teams have displayed may entitle one of them to represent Ohio when the national tournament honors are awarded.

"What the old boys call the lure of the game is really the lucre."

SOCKS 'EM

Clyde Hull, above, son of the great open spaces of Texas, doesn't think much of the calibre of one Pete Latzo, world's welterweight champ, as a boxer. Clyde socked Pete around the ring at Dallas, Tex., for a clean cut newspaper decision over the champ, but failed to annex the title because no referee's decision was allowed. Hull declared after the fight that Latzo was "the easiest thing I have ever been up against."

FIRST IN TEN YEARS

When the Harvard baseball team plays the Boston Braves on April 11, the day before the National League season opens, it will be the first time the Crimson has met a major league team on the diamond in more than 10 years. The last occasion was in 1916, when the collegians scored a 2 to 0 victory over the Red Sox, which later in the same year won the American League pennant and the world's championship.

Rogers Hornsby and John M'Graw are Peaceful in Sarasota Training Camp

Former Manager of World Champion Outfit Shows Good Form and Follows Instructions; Seems Glad of Change and Opportunity; In Splendid Condition

BY DAVIS J. WALSH

New York, Mar 2.—It seems that all is peaceful so far between John McGraw and Rogers Hornsby in the camp of the New York Giants at Sarasota, Fla., much to the irritation of those [illegible] who simply would not be [illegible]. They saw in Hornsby a gent who might be expected to annoy our Mr. McGraw with a punch on the nose at a moment's notice, or none at all, and naturally they resent very deeply the implied rebuke to their good intentions.

As a matter of fact, it would seem that the youth has proved to be altogether untrustworthy. That is the most charitable thing that can be said about a young man who will start for the south as a radical and arrive as the agent of the helping hand society.

It might have been a trifle difficult to identify Rogers Hornsby as the paragon in question if I hadn't received a convincing report on the situation. The report was rendered by a veteran observer whose excess of emotion compels him to enter an athlete every 10 years, whether he needs it or not, and this is what he says:

Hornsby Okay

"Your man (Hornsby) looks okay to me. Has entered into training with Giants as if delighted with the chance and opportunity, which of course won't hurt him any. Takes a hand in everything going on and watches and advises youngsters. He is confident Giants will win flag. Made fast running play on ground ball today and, at bat, is meeting ball nicely and is timing better than on arrival here.

"Seems to be rid of lameness at base of spine, which bothered him last year. Says he is all over that trouble. Goes about his work with zest. His spirits excellent and, so far as I can judge, he is in as good physical form as he ever was. Agile on feet but not extending himself."

Same Person

One can go behind this man's judgment about as readily as one can go behind one's beef. It is the same Hornsby who as manager of a world's championship club last year, blandly informed his men that they were to do their own thinking, regardless of the consequences. These, of course, might very well have been frightful.

I noted that our man harangued the athletes in the club house the first day in camp, telling them of the importance of their mission and all that sort of thing. Yes, the evidence would seem to indicate that a more serious Hornsby is about to be visited upon us. At least, that is the supposition until such time if at all, as events prove the case to be otherwise.

Jubilee's Pardner

A Story of Boyhood Adventures

BY JUDD MORTIMER LEWIS

[illegible] the night last [illegible] it only slushed [illegible] it was worse [illegible] when I let him [illegible] a dog has not [illegible] a boy.

[illegible] getting let down [illegible] day in the year [illegible] in the snow or [illegible] get so used to it by [illegible] he wanted to be [illegible] look around for [illegible] back up and set [illegible] Jubilee lands [illegible] me like he thought [illegible] there and let him [illegible] loose. When I was [illegible] this morning and I [illegible] and sloppy the [illegible] window looked I be[illegible] back and forth, and [illegible] far enough to [illegible] I was going to let him [illegible] my ant must of heard [illegible] rope against the house [illegible] back and forth, and she [illegible] up and leaned way [illegible] to see if she could catch [illegible] something they hadn't [illegible] as I began to let the [illegible] through my hands, and as [illegible] felt his bussel on the [illegible] neck he thought he had [illegible] he let go of the rope and rolled right down her back through her window, and she pulled her head in like a mud turtle to see what had went in her room.

I pulled up my rope and hid it and shut the window, and put on my pants and I was almost afraid to go downstairs, but I went down and out in the kitchen and Jubilee was standing by the kitchen door looking as scart as I was, and I let him out and just then my ant hollered for me to come there, and I went there and she said she had looked out of her window and a monkey or something had grabbed her by the throat and choked her and jumped into her room, and so we got everyone up and searched the house, but we didn't find anything.

My grandfather held up her perfume bottle, and said like he was talking to himself that one time a pink elephant got into his room, and he didn't think a monkey was anything to fuss about. Me and Jubilee were certainly lucky that time.

Nothing happened to day except that my ant had filled a box with sand and put it on the floor under the kitchen table with some garden seeds in it, and Annabelle Lee took the fire shovel and carried all the sand and seeds into the parlor. It made my mother mad at my ant and my ant mad at Annabelle Lee.

Daily Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily and His Friends

[illegible] any nickels or pennies, [illegible] Neddie Stubtail, the [illegible] bear as he shuffled out [illegible] Stump School one afternoon [illegible] for home.

[illegible] or a penny," answered [illegible] "Why did you ask, [illegible]

[illegible] I'm sort of hungry for a [illegible] and I thought maybe if [illegible] nickel we could buy a big [illegible] give you half, or if you [illegible] a penny we could buy a small [illegible] and I'd give you half of [illegible] generous that way; aren't [illegible]

[illegible] suppose so," sniffed Beckie. [illegible] buy honey cakes with [illegible] pennies or nickels 'cause I [illegible] Where' our own nickel [illegible] you yesterday?"

[illegible] it or I lost it. I [illegible] answered Neddie. "And [illegible] remember buying any honey [illegible] my nickel so I must have [illegible]"

[illegible] of a sudden, Neddie saw [illegible] hopping along the street [illegible] ahead and the shaggy [illegible] bear shuffled along quite fast [illegible] caught up with the rab[illegible]

[illegible] Wiggily," rumbled Ned[illegible] deep voice. "Have you a [illegible] pocket.

[illegible] yes, I think so," answered [illegible] "Do you want it?"

[illegible] like to look at it, if you [illegible] answered Neddie, while his [illegible] Beckie behind him pulled on his [illegible] whispered:

"[illegible] mustn't ask Uncle Wiggily for [illegible] Daddy wouldn't like it!"

"I'm not asking him to give me a [illegible]" whispered back Neddie. "I [illegible] want to look at it." And when [illegible] pulled out a nickel, the [illegible] bear looked at it carefully, first [illegible] one side and then on the other. [illegible] he sighed and said:

"I don't know if that's my nickel or [illegible] But if you wanted to let me take [illegible] Uncle Wig, and if I found out, afterward, that it wasn't my nickel, I [illegible] give it back to you—maybe—if I [illegible] spend it."

"What makes you think that is your [illegible] Neddie?" asked the bunny.

"[illegible] know—I had a nickel," [illegible] Neddie, standing first on one [illegible] and then on the other. "And I [illegible] know if I lost it or if I spent it. [illegible] you found this nickel, why, [illegible] it's the one I lost and then, in [illegible]—"

Neddie began licking his teeth with [illegible] for he was very hungry to [illegible] honey cake. Uncle Wiggily [illegible] and said:

"Well, Neddie, as it happens, I did [illegible] that nickel. And I'll give it to [illegible] for it may be the one you lost. [illegible] if you discover it isn't why, [illegible]"

Neddie looked more carefully at the [illegible] and said:

"[illegible] the same shape as the one I [illegible] lost. And it's the same color. [illegible] it's mine all right. Thank you [illegible] finding it for me, Unkie Wig! [illegible] Beckie!" and he hurried away. "[illegible] buy some honey cakes!"

[illegible] as the little bears shuffled [illegible] the bunny gentleman laughed [illegible] to Uncle Butter, who pranced [illegible] just then:

"I found the nickel I gave Neddie, of [illegible] I found it on my bureau, [illegible] I had laid it. However, I didn't [illegible] to know that."

"[illegible] I suppose not," bleated the goat [illegible]

[illegible] Uncle Wiggily walked on to[illegible] pretty soon they met Neddie [illegible] again.

"Well, how were the honey cakes?" asked the bunny.

"We didn't buy any," answered Neddie. "After we left you Beckie and I saw a poor mouse lady who didn't have any money to buy cheese, so I gave her my nickel that you found. I don't care much for honey cakes, anyhow." And Beckie said the same thing.

Then Uncle Wiggily put his paw in his pocket again and pulled out a ten-cent piece, saying:

"There, Neddie! Take that and buy honey cakes. I guess it was a dime you lost instead of a nickel."

"Have you a nickle in your pocket?"

"Oh, no, Uncle Wig!" said Neddie. "It was only a nickel I had and maybe Neddie and Beckie bought as many honey cakes as were good for them with the ten cents.

So everything came out all right, and if the apple doesn't jump out of the huckleberry pie to go roller skating with the pumpkin shortcake, I'll tell you next about Uncle Wiggily's snowberries.

THREE-DAY COLDS THREATEN LUNGS

A cough or cold that hangs on after the third day is a threat.

Do something! Don't wait until the cold has run its course—from your head to your throat—from throat to chest or bronchial tubes. Break up your cold before it settles in this "danger zone"; for inflammation spreads, and your bronchial tubes lead directly into your lungs!

Quickly and unfailingly Ayer's Cherry Pectoral stops a cough and drives out the cold. Hospital-Proved Medicine—not just a "cough syrup!"

If you are catching cold; if you have a "head cold"; if your chest is tight; if you have a cough—even if bronchitis has developed — Ayer's Cherry Pectoral at once! It has relieved more colds and coughs than any other medicine in the world.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral is used by hospital clinics and leading physicians. Pleasant, safe and effective for children and grown people. At all druggists. 60c; twice as much, $100.
gists, 60c; twice as much, $1.00. c56a

RADIO EXPERTS NAMED ON BOARD BY COOLIDGE

Four of Five Men Selected Know Technical Side of Industry

Washington, Mar. 2—Men of radio experience will dominate the new federal [illegible] commission if the senate confirms the five men selected yesterday by President Coolidge. Four of the five men are technical experts, one is a legal expert and one, a retired admiral, [illegible] as the balance wheel.

The commissioners nominated are: Rear Admiral William H. G. Bullard, Media, Pa., six-year term; Orestes H. Caldwell, Bronxville, N. Y., radio magazine editor, five years; Eugene O. Sykes, Jackson, Miss., former justice of the state supreme court, [illegible]; Henry A. Bellows, Minneapolis, radio technician director, three years; John F. Dillon, San Francisco, radio technician, two years.

Caldwell is a graduate electrical engineer who has edited electrical and radio magazines for many years. His home has a radio connection in every room. All connections are tied in with an automatic clock switching system. The whole family wakes up every morning by radio alarm. There is a radio signal in the maid's room. Electrical household equipment in the house performs 87 operations.

Admiral Bullard organized the Philippine Radio corporation. Dillon has been a radio inspector for the department of commerce for the Pacific zone and has participated in all radio conferences called by Secretary of Commerce Hoover.

Army circles have indicated some feeling that a navy man was appointed to the commission leaving the other arms of the service ignored.

CAUTION IS EVIDENT AMONG STOCK TRADERS

MARKETS AT A GLANCE

Railroad stocks strong; industrial stock firm; domestic bonds firm; foreign bonds steady; call money four per cent; grain steady; copper firm; oil irregular; cotton strong; rubber steady; sugar steady; pig iron firm; foreign exchange irregular.

New York, Mar. 2—For the second consecutive session, the stock market today felt the weight of a large volume of stock offerings, and with few exceptions the trend of prices was again downward. There were a number of notable exceptions to this rule, but these were mostly in the pool stocks, with substantial backing, and the rails and industrials receiving the benefit of important favorable developments.

Wall Street noted a growing attitude of caution, not only in professional speculative circles but among outside traders as well. This is expressed mostly in the refusal of stock traders to "reach for" the high-flyers at the extreme peak of price movements, and in the liberal selling of stock for the short account.

Some of the large traders are apparently selling stocks with their eyes closed, judging from recent transactions in the split-up of Loose Wiles Biscuit, which was incorrectly priced at 3—instead of 42 and pushed out at the low price in considerable volume. Naturally, there was a rush to cover as soon as error was discovered.

The steel trade reviews reported a considerable improvement in the March indications for finished steel products. Orders for more extended deliveries from a number of consuming lines were reported, and the steel trade made no response whatever to the prospect of a strike in the bituminous coal fields at the end of the month. The Petroleum Institute reported a new peak in crude oil production close to 2,500,000 barrels a day, but oil leaders say that the increase is necessary in order to take care of the oil markets.

Directors of the Pere Marquette and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh railroads met today, little could be learned of their official actions in the market period, but, anticipating a special dividend for Pere Marquette stockholders, the stock sold up sharply to 127 for a 6-point gain. Kansas City Southern, Wabash, New Haven and other of the speculative rails were generally reactionary.

Call money was in good supply at 4 per cent, down fractionally from Tuesday's final quotation.

MAN FINED $50

Woman Claims Columbus Resident Took Her Wrist Watch

F. W. Barhite, 30, of Columbus, was fined $50 and costs in Municipal Court yesterday, following a hearing on the charge of embezzling personal property, filed against him by Miss Alice Coykendall.

Miss Coykendall claimed that Barhite had obtained possession of her wrist watch by representing that he would repair it. Instead, she alleged, he gave it to another young woman.

Testimony showed that Barhite had registered at two hotels here under different names.

Following his arrest at the Werley Hotel, Hoyle-st, Saturday night, Barhite pleaded not guilty and his hearing was set for yesterday. He was unable to present any evidence in refutation of Miss Coykendall's charge.

Among the Abyssinians a woman's word is assumed to be inviolate.
